Dear Madam:-

Referring to your recent letter about the Journal and your dues, our records show you are not in arrears for this year, and, as a member, are entitled to the current Journal free.

Our object in sending the card was to find out whether you were interested enough to want the Journal.

We would like to have your frank criticism of volume 49, when you have had time to read it..

We are trying to be of service to our members, and can only do so by becoming better acquainted with their interests.

We have much useful material here in our library, cabinet, files, etc., which would surely be of value to you if we knew your particular interests.

Will you kindly tell us in what branch of numismatics you are active, and how we can serve you?

Yours very truly,

Treasurer.
